Lory Student Center Dress Code Policy

The Lory Student Center dress code policy is designed to help us all provide a consistent professional appearance to our customers and colleagues. Our appearance reflects upon ourselves and Colorado State University. All employees are expected to dress appropriately for the position they hold, which can include casual, business casual, business, and/or a designated uniform. All employees will abide by all health and safety rules relating to their specific assignments (i.e. hairnets for Dining Services employees). Each department supervisor shall be the final arbiter of the appropriateness of attire.

Attire worn, including face masks/coverings, while working should not include messaging, however, support for CSU, the Lory Student Center, or a specific CSU department, University program, and/or service is acceptable. On CSU “spirit day” Fridays, employees are encouraged to “get their Green on” and support the Rams by wearing CSU gear.

CSU recognizes that the ever-changing COVID-19 situation presents a need to pivot and adapt. All students, staff, faculty, and visitors must wear a face mask/covering in all public spaces while on University property (find further information on the CSU COVID-19 Health and Safety policy at www.policylibrary.colostate.edu). Face masks/coverings must fit snugly and cover the mouth and nose. This requirement is in place to help reduce the risk of spreading COVID-19 among our university community and to comply with federal, state, county, and University public health orders. According to current guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the following types of face coverings do not reduce the spread of COVID-19 and hence are not recommended: triangle-folded bandanas, gaiters, crocheted, or knitted masks unless they have a base of cotton cloth.

No dress code policy can cover all contingencies so employees must exert a certain amount of judgment in their choice of attire to wear to work. If you experience uncertainty about acceptable attire for work, please ask your supervisor.
